

June 2021 Oregon Infection Prevention Job Opportunity

Eugene, OR - Senior Quality Facilitator: This 350+ bed acute care facility is seeking a Registered Nurse with Infection Prevention or Quality experience. They will work with a team, which is made up of a variety of different backgrounds, that reports to the Director of Quality. They will be looked at as a coach and mentor who leads quality initiatives. This position has the opportunity to work closely with the executive and make a real difference within the system.

About The Roman Healthcare Group

The Roman Healthcare Group is nationally recognized as the leading recruiting firm which specializes in Infection Prevention and Healthcare Quality. We've worked exclusively in this realm since 2009.

63% of the candidates we have ever placed, we've known for two or more years prior to placement.

We will guide you through the entire process as your career broker -- we'll do the heavy lifting of worrying about where your next job could be, so you can worry about the little things, like what's for dinner tonight.

The Roman Healthcare Group is proud to support APIC -- please come see us in Austin at APIC 2021, we'll be at Booth #1150!

We offer both permanent and interim placement services. Today we are searching 31 Infection Prevention roles across the United States -- the one in Oregon is listed above.

As the nation's leader in filling Healthcare Quality positions, we're also able to help you fill your facility's critical needs. If your department or organization has needs in these areas, we can help you fill them immediately.

Please do not hesitate to contact Savannah Fraser, Infection Prevention Candidate Development Representative, at savannahf@romanhealth.com or via telephone, 706-277-0124.